Principal's News

Tuesday, 27 November 2012

This week we have run the final article in the Successful Schooling Series by Mal Lee and Jesse Rowan. We hope these articles have provided you with information on some of the latest research and trends in Education as well as listing some of the strategies you can use at home. Our focus has always been to work more closely with our families and community so that together we provide the best education possible for our children. Although this is the last article, previous articles will always be available on our website in case you wish to refer to them at any stage.

Our grateful thanks to both Mal and Jesse for providing such a wonderful resource to both staff and families.

We have new chickens!!!!!!

Many thanks to staff and residents at Banksia Village who have provided us with some new chickens. The chickens, who recently hatched under a special program at Banksia, will take up residence in our chicken coop next February when school resumes for the new year.

Pictured is Nada Finlayson with the chickens already boxed ready for delivery to their new home.

Care Packages
Christmas is coming up and we have been looking at how we can help rather than take from our community.
Following a very meaningful Remembrance Day Service last month, we have decided to make up some care packages for our Australian Defence personnel serving on overseas operations on Christmas Day. These packages would be in place of the class "Kris Kringle" activities that are organised in some of the classes. If you would like to support this initiative, please check the note that students will bring home listing the items that can be donated for the packages.

Old Mobiles
We will be winding up our "Recycling Old Mobiles" program next week so if you still have an old mobile that is no longer used, please bring it into our collection box in the front office so that it can be recycled safely.

Our Veggie Garden needs you to ‘Bring A Bag Along’
Our raised garden beds need a “top up” of organic material. Please fill a bag with organic material such as leaves, grass clippings, compost, cow poo, sheep poo, any manure will do!
